

Fabricated Totems & Monoliths

Create impact with these distinctive and eye-catching architectural signs

Product Brochure

Bespoke totem and monolith signs are fabricated to specification

Totems and monoliths are used to create high profile identity and directional signage.

The signs are particularly suitable for retail parks, landmarks, vehicle showrooms, supermarkets, petrol stations, leisure centres and other facilities typically accommodated across a large site.

Applelec's fabricated totems and monoliths are substantial freestanding systems which are tall and slim in design. The size and structure of the signage ensures it is easily visible from within a vehicle and as such these systems are often positioned at building or park entrances and along road edges where the shop or service front may be some way away or not visible at all.

In fabrication, a variety of styles and techniques from flat faced trays to curved faces are used to create durable signage which can withstand severe weather conditions. Aluminium painted are our most popular totems with brushed, polished and painted stainless steel also available with illumination available from a choice of fluorescent tubes, LED modules or our own light panel, LED Light Sheet.

Applelec's advisors have a wealth of experience in the manufacture of totem and monolith systems and will advise on the most appropriate fixing method for these tall and heavy systems. From fixing cages to base plates to extended posts, Applelec will advise on the most appropriate, safe and long lasting installation method.
